PAULÍNIA DATA CENTER

Paulínia Data Center

Home to one of the largest petrochemical complexes in Latin America, Paulínia plays a key role in the local economy. This strategic location was also chosen to house the Paulínia Data Center.

The site is located on the main highway cutting across the city, providing quick access to São Paulo and other nearby cities with high storage capacity, energy and redundancy. An investment fit to match the economic relevance of one of the most dynamic regions in Brazil.
