

Digital Elk Grove
Elk Grove Village, Illinois

Why Digital Elk Grove?

CH1 CH2 CH3 The Digital Elk Grove Campus is a masterplanned campus in the Chicago suburb of Elk Grove Village. It consists of three buildings, totaling over 1 million square feet of space, and a wide array of scalable offerings and flexible design options supporting up to multimegawatt deployments. Digital Elk Grove is a secure and interconnected data center campus in close proximity to network, cloud, and content ecosystems available within the metro. ServiceFabric™ also offers the ability to connect to any or all major cloud providers directly and economically.

Location

The Digital Elk Grove campus is immediately adjacent to O'Hare International Airport. In addition to benefitting from its close proximity to multiple fiber providers and utility substations, the campus property has direct connectivity to our 350 Cermak Road and 600 South Federal Street facilities in Chicago.
